Notification:

We would like to inform our valued customers about a change in the products manufactured for distribution and sales in the UK and EU regions by GPN. All box formats produced by GPN will now be manufactured without protective bands around the neck area.

As the neck seal on our current boxes has become non-recyclable, we have decided to remove this part of the packaging in order to align with our sustainability policies and goals. Through this change, we aim to prevent approximately 4,000 kg of plastic waste.

Our risk assessment, considering product quality and cap design, indicates that our products are now fully protected in their new form. With the application of an induction heat seal inside the cap of each plastic box item, the product content is suitable for consumption in compliance with food safety standards.

Best regards
